

Dear Parent,

Hello! My name is Patrick Thompson and I am a 2010 graduate of Centennial High School and a rising junior at Princeton University. This summer, I've been selected to bring Ivy Insiders programs to Roswell. Ivy Insiders programs are offered through Revolution Prep, an innovative prep company that is changing the way thousands of students around the country approach standardized tests.

What are Ivy Insiders programs?

Ivy Insiders programs were started at Harvard in 2003 with a mission to help high school students beat the SAT and ACT using the first-hand insights of top college test-takers. Over the last 8 years, Ivy Insiders programs have helped nearly 10,000 students achieve SAT score improvements of 257 points on average—nearly twice the improvement achieved by traditional test prep companies.

What makes Ivy Insiders different?

Ivy Insiders' programs deliver unmatched results due to three key differentiators:

- College-aged instructors selected for their 98-99th percentile SAT scores and experience as mentors and role models to high school students
- Intensive delivery in a three-week period during which students can avoid the typical school-year distractions and focus entirely on the SAT.
- A personalized approach that targets each student's problems areas and customizes instruction to every student's needs

How can your son or daughter get involved?

To view schedules for my classroom courses, private tutoring, and free summer workshops, visit http://www.revolutionprep.com/instructors/patrick_t. Remember that summer is the ideal time to focus on test prep without adding to the workload of school!

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to email me at Patrick_thompson@ivyinsiders.com or call me anytime at 770-880-8905. Below is some more information about my own teaching and testing background.

Regards,

Patrick Thompson
