

Princeton Review's National College Expert Giving a Free Seminar:

Getting In! A Paul Kanarek Presentation!

Tuesday, November 13th

6:30 pm at Cambridge High School Auditorium
2845 Bethany Bend, Milton, GA 30004

Paul Kanarek, one of America's leading experts on both standardized testing and college admission, is coming to Atlanta! In addition, Paul is Princeton Review's longest current serving employee, having started the west coast version of the company back in 1983. In his free seminar for college-bound teens and parents, he will demystify the college admission processes and share valuable insider advice to families about choosing the best college or university for your personal needs. He'll cover topics including:

-
- How to Be a Savvy College Shopper and Applicant
Smart ways to choose the right school for your success
What colleges are really looking for in applicants
How test scores affect admission and aid prospects: tips to "up" your scores
  - Insider Scoop on Colleges
Why the most expensive school on your list may be the most affordable
Latest news on the SAT and ACT
Roadmap to College
  - College Cost$ and Financial Aid
Where the money is when it comes to grants, scholarships and financial aid awards
Key facts about the FAFSA (the most important aid application you'll need to submit)
How to get the most financial aid possible and lower college costs
-

RSVP here:

<http://www.princetonreview.com/ATLGettingInEvent/>